

INTEGRAL COACHING® CERTIFICATION PROGRAM
(MODULE 1 – FOUNDATION & APPRENTICESHIP MODULE 2 – EMBODIMENT & CERTIFICATION)

MODULE 2 – EMBODIMENT & CERTIFICATION

The EMBODIMENT & CERTIFICATION MODULE is a nine month intensive designed for coaches who have successfully completed Module 1 and want to advance beyond the foundational level of the method and 'starter set' of Integral models to a sophisticated level of coaching that draws upon a comprehensive set of Integral models and a substantially deeper understanding of what is truly involved in enabling clients to achieve exceptional results that literally change their worlds. There are three class sessions, an array of assignments, practices, individual and small group support in between sessions, and a requirement to coach three clients throughout the nine months.

First Class:	5 days
Second Class:	5 days
Third Class:	5 days (includes certification process)
Between Classes:	Coaching three clients in 5 – 8 month coaching programs Five one-on-one development phone calls: 1 st term: 3 calls & 2 nd term: 2 calls Assignments, readings, study group meetings, observation of coaching conversations
Coach Training Hours:	138 hours

Between session work includes coaching three clients, required reading, studying the Integral (AQAL) lenses, engaging in Integral Coach™ Practices, participating in a study group, and receiving formal feedback of observed coaching conversations and written assignments. The Integral Coach™ Practices enable students to become aware of and expand their current way of being/perceiving as a coach and to develop the core competencies needed to be effective, present and skilful with clients. Participants are required to coach three clients over the nine months applying advanced Integral Coaching® models/lenses. Five individual development phone calls are conducted to provide feedback on coaching method application, performance of core competencies, progress in their Integral Coach™ Practices, and progressive learning of the subtleties of Integral Coaching®. Students participate in a small study group supported by a qualified Mentor. A professional Integral Coaching® Certification Process is part of this program. The entire Module is designed based upon Integral principles of human development.

MODULE 2 – WHAT YOU WALK AWAY WITH...

- If successful in the Module elements, you leave this program licensed to practice Integral Coaching® professionally, demonstrating the core competencies at an exemplary level, fully embodying the method and applying a comprehensive set of Integral lenses to understand, effectively work with and develop sustainable competencies in your clients using a fully Integral (AQAL) approach
- You join the Integral Coaching® Consortium, sign a Professional Code of Ethics and are certified to practice
- Having completed Module 1 and Module 2, you have the necessary coach training hours for the ICF Professional Certified Coach (125 hours) or Master Certified Coach (200 hours) levels of accreditation

MODULE 2 – WHO SHOULD ATTEND...

- People who are interested in exploring how to more effectively and meaningfully affect change at multiple scales through human development that is focused, powerful, sustainable, and Integral
- Coaches who want to become professionally certified in a School of Coaching renowned for exemplifying & embodying the highest standards in teaching and integrated learning, excellence in Integral Coaching®, and who want to work in community with others interested in maintaining these standards
- People who have graduated from Module 1 – Foundation & Apprenticeship who may or may not currently be formally coaching but have a renewed desire to participate more fully in this discipline

MODULE 2 – WHAT YOU DEVELOP...

INTEGRAL COACHING® METHOD AND ETHICAL APPLICATION

- You will learn complex Integral Coaching® models (Levels of Consciousness, Enneagram Type, Gender Type, and States of Consciousness) that when added to the Integral Coaching® models learned in Module 1 (Quadrants and Lines) will enable you to rigorously and comprehensively work with how human beings change, approach change, sustain change, and resist change
- You will take your technical learning from Module 1 and drop into deeper and more complex applications of the Integral Coaching® method and Integral approach to human development
- You will be able to discern the client's current level of development (AQAL Constellation – based on the six lenses listed above) through which they view, interpret and operate in the world; based on this understanding, you will be able to determine the appropriate focus, scale and language with which to work with clients
- You will be able to design Integral Coaching® programs that powerfully address all four quadrants of reality and appropriate developmental domains (across the AQAL lenses) such that the client is able to experience significant and sustained change beyond their expectations
- You will have a sound understanding of your ethical responsibilities with respect to your conduct with your clients as well as your professional conduct at large as an Integral Coach™

INTEGRAL COACHING® QUALITIES & COMPETENCIES

- You will come to truly know Integral Coaching® cognitively, emotionally, somatically, and spiritually as you experience its power by receiving coaching from peers, your mentor and the Instructors, through observing others' coaching and through direct practice of coaching in class sessions and with your three clients throughout the duration of the nine months
- You will develop a profound awareness of your unique developmental path as you receive numerous forms of feedback on your performance of core coaching competencies and the application of the Integral Coaching® method; you will develop and engage in related practices for your specific AQAL Constellation
- You will undertake a significant, multi-faceted developmental journey engaging in a complete set of Integral Coach™ Practices necessary for you to embody the way of a certified Integral Coach™
- You will progressively advance your skill levels in all of the core coaching competencies necessary to employ this coaching method (setting a solid foundation for working with a client, cultivating a relationship based upon trust and respect, inquiring, listening and speaking wisely, directly, and with skilful compassion enabling the client to learn, grow, stretch, and obtain their desired results)
- You will experience dramatic shifts in your personal and professional life that heighten the call for integrity and alignment in all aspects of your world

INTEGRAL COACHING® COMMUNITY

- You will develop a deep bond and community with your colleagues that not only enrich you through the term of Module 2 but will also leave you with relationships that will last long into the future
